1. Introduction

As part of our integrity framework, YourWorld B.V. (“YourWorld”) has established this code of conduct (hereinafter: “Code”) which contains standards of behavior that is expected at YourWorld and all its subsidiaries within the meaning of Article 2:24a of the Dutch Civil Code (hereinafter referred to as the “Group” or the “Organization” or the “YourWorld Entity / YourWorld Entities”). Everywhere YourWorld is mentioned, this also refers to the YourWorld Entities

YourWorld aims to prevent and combat Undesirable Behavior such as Sexual Harassment, Bullying, Aggression, Violence and Discrimination within the YourWorld Entities. The purpose of this Code is to promote a safe and healthy workplace, where Employees respect each other's boundaries.

This Code applies to all employees of YourWorld and YourWorld Entities, contractors and representatives, which means all employees (whether temporary, fixed term or permanent), contractors, trainees, seconded staff, home workers, casual workers, agency staff, volunteers and interns of all YourWorld Entities (hereinafter: “Employees”). It further applies to the relationship between Employees and Partners of YourWorld (hereinafter: “Partners”), to officers, trustees, board members or committee members of any YourWorld Entity at any level and in addition and lastly, this Code applies to any third party acting on behalf of a YourWorld Entity, such as for example sponsors, (sales) agents, contractors, suppliers, distributors, joint venture partners, clients, or consultants and their representatives and officials, no matter where they are located.

Within our Organization, Employees can call on the support of a Confidential Advisor. If desired, the Confidential Advisor offers support and counseling to Employees who experience Undesirable Behavior.

Employees must be aware of the standards of behavior in the Code and have a responsibility to act in accordance with it. When Employees are in doubt of how to handle a given situation, they should seek guidance in the Code and/or the Whistleblower Policy. A breach of the Code may result in disciplinary action being taken by YourWorld or the relevant YourWorld Entity which may result in an official warning, suspension without standard pay, or termination of your employment contract with YourWorld or the relevant YourWorld Entity.

This Code is linked to YourWorld’s Whistleblower’s Policy that contains the complaint (or: whistleblower) procedure and describes to whom an Employee can turn with a Complaint regarding Undesirable Behavior. Among other things, the complaint procedure describes the manner in which a Complaint must be handled and the time limit within which this must take place.

The Your.World ABC Policy is a further elaboration on what is included in this Code in the area of Anti-Bribery and Corruption and is intended to serve as a basis of professional, ethical, and fair behavior.

Wherever the 'he form' is used in this Code, the 'she form' or any other gender identity should also be read as appropriate.

D. What to do in case of Undesirable Behavior

1. Prior to making a Complaint (Report)

YourWorld wants to create a workplace where openness is a key factor. We take responsibility for ensuring that we all act with integrity in all situations. Prior to filing a Complaint, an Employee confronted with alleged Undesirable Behavior should check whether the situation that has arisen can be resolved by means of a conversation with the person who carried out the alleged Undesirable Behavior, an HRM employee or his/her own Superior. A Confidential Advisor can support and advise the Employee in this regard.

2. Submission and handling of the Complaint

A Complaint is initially filed together with an HRM employee or the Supervisor, against whom the Complaint is filed. If, for example, the circumstances do not allow this, insufficient safety is felt or the Superior does not follow up with the Complainant, a Complaint can be filed following the Whistleblower Policy (as attached hereto in Appendix 2).

E. Legal Framework and Positioning of the Code

1. Legislation

The (Dutch) working conditions act, or any of its local equivalents, stipulates that every employer is required to implement a policy aimed at preventing and limiting psychosocial workload, and Undesirable Behavior.

The (Dutch) working conditions act focuses on total policy implementation. This includes prevention as well as reception and guidance of victims of Undesirable Behavior.

2. Management Support

A good policy, supported by management throughout the whole Group, is a prerequisite for avoiding Undesirable Behavior in the Organization. Management determines what behavior is desirable or is not. Management has an exemplary role in this and should enforce it. In this way, trust is built up and Undesirable Behavior will be less likely to occur.

3. Communication of the Code

Clear communication about what is and is not permissible in the Organization has an important preventive effect. Therefore, this Code is continuously monitored and the management of all levels within the Group are challenged to continuously promote the Code and assure that all Employees are familiar with the content thereof.
